Are You between the Ages of 18-40 and Struggling with Anorexia Nervosa or a Related Eating Disorder Marked by Food Restriction and Weight Loss?

"RECONNECTING FOR RECOVERY" MULTIFAMILY THERAPY GROUP RESEARCH STUDY

You may qualify to be in a research study of a new Multifamily Therapy Group Treatment for Adults (ages 18-40) with Anorexia Nervosa.

The University of Rochester School of Nursing is conducting a clinical study evaluating this new treatment involving the individual with the eating disorder and their identified family members. Family members can be adult (> 18) family of origin members like parents and siblings or adult (> 18) “family of choice” members like partners, close friends, and mentors.

If you are interested, contact the University of Rochester School of Nursing at (585) 275-6629 to see if you qualify.
